SUMMARY

Nebraska institutions of postsecondary education reported a total headcount enrollment of 100,454 in 1987 as compared to 100,401 for the previous year. This total represents a 2% gain for state colleges with a corresponding 2% loss for the independent colleges and universities. The University of Nebraska and the technical community colleges remained essentially the same. Public institutions accounted for 84% of the total, with independent institutions making up the remaining 16%.

Full-time enrollments showed a similar flat pattern so far as state totals were concerned, with state colleges reporting a slight increase.

Part-time enrollments decreased by 2.7% for the state with state colleges reporting a 2.7% gain and independent colleges and universities showing an 8.4% decrease.

The number of women represents 53.4% of the total enrollment, a slight increase over last year.

The most significant difference for the one-year period is seen in first-time freshmen. This category increased by 756 (6%), reversing a downward trend which began in 1980. However, first-time, part-time freshmen decreased 2,896 (44%) from the previous year, resulting in an 11.5% overall decrease in first-time freshmen.

When viewed over a five-year period, total headcount enrollments increased by 4,792 (5.01%), full-time enrollments decreased 2,007 (-3.42%), and part-time enrollments increased 6,799 (18.37%). Five-year trends show the University of Nebraska with decreases in both full-time and part-time enrollments, state colleges reported gains in both categories, technical community colleges show a slight decrease in full-time but a significant increase in part-time, while the independent colleges indicate a significant decrease in both categories.

None of the tables reported in this document include private vocational schools due to a lack of data.

PREFACE

The information contained in this report was supplied by the Nebraska institutions of postsecondary education as a part of the annual collection of data requested by the United States Department of Education.

This report reflects data collected under the Integrated Postsecondary Education Data System (IPEDS) which replaces the Higher Education General Information Survey (HEGIS) formerly used for this purpose.

Data on ethnic categories are included in the Fall Headcount Enrollment Reports on a biennial basis and are reported on even-numbered years.

The data in this report (Fall Headcount Enrollment 1982 through 1986) were taken from the following reports:

Fall 1987: Fall Enrollment 1987 (IPEDS)

Fall 1986: Fall Enrollment 1986 (IPEDS)

Fall 1985: Fall Enrollment in Institutions of Higher Education - 1985 (HEGIS)

Fall 1984: Fall Enrollment and Compliance Report of Institutions of Higher Education - 1984 (HEGIS)

Fall 1983: Fall Enrollment in Institutions of Higher Education - 1983 (HEGIS)

The Nebraska Coordinating Commission for Postsecondary Education coordinates the distribution and collection of these reporting forms to the institutions for transmittal to the United States Department of Education.

We wish to acknowledge with appreciation the cooperation and time spent by the institutions in reviewing and verifying the data contained in this report.

INTRODUCTION

Fall headcount enrollment reporting is only one of several types of enrollment that might be used in analyzing patterns at the institutional, sector, state or national level. Depending upon the question being asked, the following counts might be appropriate: fall headcount, unduplicated headcount over a fiscal year, full-time equivalency, etc. Each type of enrollment count tells the reviewer something different about the statistics.

Fall headcount enrollment is normally used as an indicator of trends among and between institutions. The fall period is the time in which traditional collegiate institutions experience their peak enrollment period. Thus, by comparing one fall enrollment period with another, the reviewer can get a general understanding of whether the enrollments are increasing and the postsecondary educational enterprise is expanding, or whether enrollments are decreasing and the enterprise is contracting. Changes in student enrollment patterns also may be inferred from fall headcount statistics.

PREFACE

The information contained in this report was reported by the Nebraska institutions of postsecondary education as a part of the Integrated Postsecondary Education Data Systems (IPEDS). The IPEDS financial statistics report is part of a series of reports institutions annually file with the National Center for Education Statistics (NCES) of the U.S. Department of Education. The Nebraska Coordinating Commission for Postsecondary Education coordinates the distribution of the IPEDS reporting forms to the institutions, the collection and return of completed reports for the National Center for Education Statistics.

This report reflects information from one of the six groups of funds generally managed by institutions of higher education. The fund group included herein is the Current Funds. Not included are revenues and expenditures related to the other five fund groups: Loan Funds, Endowment and Similar Funds, Annuity and Life Income Funds, Plant Funds, and Agency Funds. Each of the fund groups are defined below.

The Commission wishes to acknowledge with appreciation the cooperation and time the institutions devoted to reviewing and verifying the summary data contained in this report.

INTRODUCTION

The financial information contained in this report reflects institutional Educational and General revenue items and Education and General Expenditure items.

By definition, Education and General Revenues include current fund revenue from: Tuition and Fees; State Appropriations, Local Appropriations, Federal Appropriations, Grants and Contracts; Other Gifts, Grants and Contracts; Endowment; and revenue from other sources. It excludes revenue from the Sales and Services of Auxiliary Enterprises, Sales and Services of Hospitals, and income from Independent Operations. These data were taken from Part A of the IPEDS financial statistics report.

It should be noted that both restricted and unrestricted forms of revenue are included in the Current Fund Education and General Revenue Total. Due to the inclusion of restricted institutional revenue, the revenue data reported in this report may be different from budgetary information reported by some institutions.

Instructions for Part A. Current funds revenues include all unrestricted gifts and other unrestricted revenues earned during the fiscal year and restricted current funds to the extent that such funds were expended for current operating purposes.

Education and General Expenditures, by definition, includes current fund expenditures for: Instruction; Research; Public Service; Academic Support; Student Services; Institutional Support and Operation and Maintenance of the Physical Plant; Scholarships and Fellowships; and Educational and General Mandatory Transfers. Education and General Expenditures excludes expenditures related to Auxiliary Enterprises, Hospitals, and Independent Operations. These latter three items are included, however, in Total Current Funds Expenditures and Mandatory Transfers reported by the institutions. These expenditures data were taken from Part B of the HEGIS financial statistics report.

As with the revenue portion of this report, the expenditures include restricted and unrestricted current fund expenditures. The inclusion of both types of expenditure for the functional areas shown may cause these data to be slightly different from the budgetary data reported by some institutions.

SUMMARY TABLES

The two summary tables which follow compare the current fund education and general income (revenue) and expenditures for the fiscal years ending 1983 and 1987. It should be noted that the amounts have been rounded to the nearest one thousand dollars. Table I displays current fund education and general income, Table II displays education and general expenditures for all institutional sectors for the two years identified above.

The third column of each sector, and the state totals, should be read across, rather than vertically. The four-year changes show both the change in dollar amounts and percentage.

Those who review these data are cautioned from drawing too specific interpretations from these summary tables, as they do have limitations. The data reported are limited by institutional and state policies, which may have changed during the time in which these are reported, that would affect the information shown. While the reporting instructions are the same for each institution, they are sometimes interpreted differently by some reporting officers which would affect the data. In addition, personnel in the offices reporting these data may have changed and this may lead to one individual reporting the data differently than his/her predecessor.

The following five (5) tables show the percentage of the total educational and general revenue derived from various sources of revenue for each fiscal year. In addition, the percentage of the total education and general expenditures by expenditure categories is shown for each fiscal year. Each table is one fiscal year and each is formatted the same with the revenue sources and expenditure categories described on the left margin (rows) and the institutions (designations are abbreviated), and institutional sectors at the top of the tables (columns).

The following abbreviations are used for purposes of designating the institution.

SUMMARY

One hundred ninety fewer faculty members were reported this year as compared to those of a year ago. Average salaries over the one-year period increased $1,166, from $28,289 to $29,289 (4%).

Percentage changes for the various postsecondary sectors were as follows: University of Nebraska, 3% decrease in the number of faculty and 5% increase in average salary; State Colleges, 13% decrease in faculty and 3% increase in average salary; Technical Community Colleges, no change in number of faculty, and 6% increase in average salary; and Independent Colleges and Universities, 10% decrease in number of faculty and 1% increase in average salary.

Over the past five-year period, the number of faculty in all Nebraska postsecondary education institutions decreased 10%, 3,665 in 1983-84 as compared to 3,310 in 1987-88. During the same period, the average salary increased from $24,339 to $29,455 (21%).

The percentage of tenured faculty showed a slight increase, 53% in 1983-84 as compared to 55% to 1987-88.

Women faculty represented 27% of the total in 1983-84 (983) as compared to 26% of the total in 1987-88 (856). Women represented 6% of the total number of professors in 1983-84 and 7% in 1987-88, and 18% of the associate professors in 1983-84 as compared to 20% in 1987-88.

During the same five-year period, the average salary for men professors increased by 21% as compared to 15% for women; the average salary for men associate professors increased 18%, while the average salary for women associate professors increased 19%. Salaries for men at both the professor and associate professor ranks remain above those of women of comparable rank.

PREFACE

The information contained in this report was reported by the Nebraska institutions of postsecondary education as a part of the Integrated Postsecondary Education Data System (IPEDS). The IPEDS full-time instructional faculty report is part of a series of reports institutions file annually with the National Center for Education Statistics (NCES) of the U.S. Department of Education. The Nebraska Coordinating Commission for Postsecondary Education coordinates the distribution of the IPEDS reporting forms to the institutions, and collection and return of completed reports for the National Center for Education Statistics.

The Commission wishes to acknowledge with appreciation the cooperation and time the institutions devoted to reviewing and verifying the data contained in this report.

The material presented in this report is open for comment and discussion and is provided for general information purposes to the Governor, the Legislature, and the Nebraska postsecondary education community. Comments should be directed to:

INTRODUCTION

The following tables provide, in summary form, data regarding full-time instructional faculty. It should be noted that these data do not include all the faculty an institution may have that are providing instructional services as, for example, the data do not include information on part-time faculty. It is, therefore, inappropriate to draw conclusions from these data related to the number of Full-Time Equivalent (FTE) faculty.

Special note must be paid to the average salaries reported herein. These are nine (9) month average salaries (the normal manner used for reporting average salaries of full-time instructional faculty). The formula used to derive these average salaries is a standard nationwide formula. The formula is as follows: 9/11 x 12-month faculty Salary Outlay + 9-month faculty Salary Outlay = Total and Converted 9-month Salary Outlay. This Total and Converted 9-month Salary Outlay is then divided by the total number of faculty (in total or by the respective academic ranks) to determine the average salary. The salary data reported herein do not include the fringe benefits the faculty receive from their respective institutions.

Comparability of the average faculty salaries, by rank, contained in this report is limited also by the use of a single and general formula used for the purpose of computing the average faculty salary.

Due to the limitations cited above, these data need to be reviewed carefully and generally. While these data are being presented for information purposes, it would be a mistake to interpret too literally without investigating some of the factors behind the apparent differences among and between institutions and institutional sectors that limit the comparability of the information contained in this report.

The data presented in this report may differ from that anticipated by the reader. Some of the differences may be attributable to the following exclusions from data reported:

1. Instructional faculty who are employed to teach less than two semesters, three quarters, two trimesters, or two 4-month trimesters, or two 4-month sessions.

2. Instructional faculty for preclinical and clinical medicine. (Instructional faculty in all other health fields, such as dentistry, veterinary medicine, nursing, dental hygiene, etc., are included.)

3. Instructional faculty who are employed on a part-time basis.
4. Administrative officers with titles such as Dean of Instruction, Academic Dean, Dean of Faculty, Dean of Students, Librarian, Registrar, Coach, etc., even though they may devote part of their time to classroom instruction.
5. Undergraduate or graduate students who assist in the instruction of courses, but have titles such as teaching assistant, teaching associate, teaching fellow, etc.

SUMMARY

The number of degrees and other formal awards conferred by Nebraska institutions of postsecondary education show a slight increase in FY1986-87 as compared to data reported a year ago: 15,486 as compared to 15,274, an decrease of 1%.

Bachelor degrees and post-baccalaureate certificates account for 55% of the total, followed by degrees and awards based on less than four years of work beyond high school, 28%; masters degrees and post-masters certificates, 11%; and first-professional and doctoral degrees accounting for the remaining 6%. Overall, a comparison of this year's data with that of last year is again one of stability and similarity.

Statistics for the four postsecondary sectors are as follows:

> University of Nebraska awarded 6,334 degrees, 155 fewer than last year, representing 41% of the total. The greatest decrease occurred in the area of Health programs.
> State Colleges awarded 2,192 degrees, 124 more than last year, representing 14% of the total. The greatest increases were in the areas of Business, Education and Humanities.
> Technical Community Colleges conferred 3,885 awards, 186 more than last year, representing 25% of the total. The greatest increases occurred in the Physical Science and General Arts and Sciences programs.
> Independent Colleges and Universities awarded 3,075 degrees, 57 more than last year, representing 20% of the total. The greatest increase was in the area of Business.

PREFACE

The information contained in this report was supplied by the Nebraska institutions of postsecondary education as part of the Integrated Postsecondary Education Data System (IPEDS). The IPEDS Completions Survey is part of a series of surveys which the institutions file annually with the U.S. Department of Education. The Nebraska Coordinating Commission for Postsecondary Education coordinates the distribution and collection of these surveys to the institutions for transmittal to the United States Department of Education.

IPEDS replaces the Higher Education General Information Survey (HEGIS) previously used by the National Center for Education Statistics.

The Commission wishes to acknowledge with appreciation the cooperation and time spent by the institutions in reviewing and verifying the data contained in this report.

INTRODUCTION

The number of completions shown in this report are aggregated individual program totals for respective award levels. For example, the number of baccalaureate degrees reported in the major program area of Business reflects degrees conferred in three (3) possible degree programs for this program area: (1) Business Management, (2) Business and Office, and (3) Marketing and Distribution. The reviewer of these data is therefore cautioned to keep in mind that the program areas shown are major program areas rather than individual programs of study.

The data displayed in this report show the number of degrees and formal awards conferred at the following award levels.

1. Below Baccalaureate Degrees
    a. Awards of less than 1 academic year
    b. Awards of at least 1 but less than 2 academic years
    c. Associate Degrees
    d. Awards of at least 2 but less than 4 academic years

2. Bachelor's Degrees

3. Post-baccalaureate Certificates

4. Master's Degrees

5. Post-Master's Certificates

6. First-Professional

7. Doctor's Degrees

Each of the degree levels has a number of individual programs of study, or student majors, available for institutions reporting. These have been aggregated to a general program area.

Table 2 shows the number of degrees or awards each institutional sector conferred during the respective reporting period by major discipline groupings and by classification of Instructional Program (CIP) Codes. These major groupings were derived by combining various segments of the IPEDS form.
